“It wouldn’t be enough to say that the Bible is the record of our search for God... It is much closer to the truth to say that the Bible is the record of God’s search for us. Throughout the Bible people seem bent on trying to escape from God. And in spite of this, God continues to seek after those same people, refusing to give up, continuing the pursuit in spite of countless rebuffs and evasions... The search culminates in the New Testament, where the claim is made that God so desired fellowship with us that finally not just emissaries or ambassadors or prophets or representatives have been sent – God has come in Jesus Christ! It is the most astounding word that has ever been spoken. It is the most stupendous claim that has ever been made. If anything is ‘unexpected news,’ this is. But there is more to it even than that. The Bible not only tells how God sought a people in the past; it is also a means by which we ourselves are sought out today.”
